NORTHERN UTAH IMMUNIZATION COALITION

The Northern Utah Immunization Coalition was formed in 1993 to address low immunization levels of children in the Northern Utah counties of Weber, Morgan, Rich, Cache, Box Elder and Davis. Since then, it has expanded to promote immunization across the lifespan from birth to seniors.

Membership is comprised of various advocacy organizations such as local health departments, Utah Department of Health, parents, consumers, community agencies, private health providers such as hospitals, home health agencies, physicians, social workers, nurses, pharmaceutical representatives, etc.

Since 1993, we have been pro-active in promoting immunization levels through various projects. We have sponsored conferences with keynote speakers such as Rosalynn Carter, speakers from CDC, and other national authorities on immunization.

We provide printed material to educate and promote immunization for the people of Northern Utah. We provide immunizations to home-bound clients unable to get to their providers.

We meet at 2 pm on the first Tuesday of each month at the Weber-Morgan Health Department, 477 23rd Street in Ogden, Utah, 2nd Floor, Auditorium
